Platform and Resolutions

Adopted by the Republican State Convention held at Virginia City, Nevada, September 4th 1890.

The record of the Republican party is its best platform.

No political party in human history has taken such advanced positions for the equality of races, none has so wedded the administration of authority to the needs of business, none has so managed the affairs of a State as to encourage the development and settlement of a continent, none has elevated a nation and so contributed to the comfort and happiness of man, none has so honestly and economically carried on the routine duties of office.

In all things it has been the direct opposite of the Democratic party. Grand in its ambitions and impulses, firm and resolute in its consistency, strong in its devotion to principle, it is now, as it has been from its birth, the representative of all that is best and noblest in its own country and hope and promise of a better future for the human race.

It battles for human rights, its preservation of the Union, its abolition of slavery, its protection to labor, its elevation of manufacturers, its upholding of the national credit, its efforts in behalf of honest financial methods, its homestead system, and its devotion to popular education have made for it the greatest record of any political organization this or any other country ever had.

The names of its heroes are Ingion, and the deeds of Fremont, Lincoln, Grant and Garfield will shine like electric lights on the pages of history.

The Republicans of Nevada, in convention assembled, heartily indorse the acts of the fifty-first Congress, which has made greater advances in correct and needed legislation than any since the war.

The crime of filibustering, so often resorted to by the Democratic party for the purpose of defeating legislation and blocking the wheels of government, has been done away with by the genius of Reed, McKinley and their associates, and the offenders taught that congressmen are paid by the people for making laws and not bad policies.

It had, by a strictly party vote, placed the silver question on a basis that will lead naturally to free coinage and disarm all opposition among financiers.

It has taken up the work of a readjustment of the tariff in a patriotic and business-like way, such as will protect the interest of labor and at the same time encourage capital to enterprise that will furnish it with employment at good wages.

New states, which were denied their rights before, have been admitted to the Union, and a grip of immensity shall wrench the Presidency from the Democrats.

The rank under Cleveland's administration have been broken up and made to obey the laws of honest commerce.

Efforts are being made to prevent or punish frauds and intimidations in elections.

A way is being provided for and suitable pensions granted to prevent suffering among the sick and wounded heroes of the war.

Provision is being made for the reclamation of old regions, where the herds of cattle and sheep and the schools can be extended.

Unclaimed land grants are being restored to the public domain, and the land thrown open to settlement, and in all things in pledges of the National parks, forests, game preserves and timber lands administered in a wise, firm and patriotic manner, in presenting its ticket to the voters of Nevada, the republican party pledges its nothings to retribution without possibility of leniency and strict punishment.

We propose our new system of water power, which will not interfere with the water power of the Indians, and we propose to irrigate the arid lands of the West, and to do this by the use of the irrigation of the fertile lands now lying fallow.

We endorse the measure introduced by Senator George, opposing to endow the lands with an outlet to the market for the purpose of improving our western states, and we propose to irrigate the lands of the West, and to do this by the use of the irrigation of the fertile lands now lying fallow.
